PETROGRAD CLAIMS PART OF CERNAVODA BRIDGE RECAPTURED

Statement Declares Most Violent Combats Mark Continuance of Russian Effort to Relieve Rumanians

TEUTONS NEARER CAPITAL

Petrograd Admits Rumanians West of Bucharest Have Been Forced to Retire Before the Invaders

PETROGRAD, Dec. 2.—"We gained the western part of the Cernavoda bridge," the official statement declared Saturday detailing further advances in the great Russian offensive. The official statement asserted that all enemy attacks had been repelled in the southern fighting between the Rumanian capital and that the enemy had been driven from the villages of Komana and Costinari, which they had captured yesterday.

The most violent combats are marking the progress of the Russian offensive in the wooded Carpathians and along the Transylvanian frontier. Saturday's official statement declared that battles for domination of the heights east of Kirlibaba were continuing.

"The enemy is stubbornly resisting by vigorous counter attacks, the Russian onslaughts in the valleys of the Trotius, the Sulta, the Telebanach and the Iza. The combats are extremely bitter," the statement asserted.

Admission that the Rumanian forces defending Bucharest from the west had been pushed back after persistent Teutonic attacks to the river Arges was made in the statement.

"In Dobruja in the region of Kalki," the statement declares, "the enemy had been compelled to retire southward from several heights."

Says Russian Losses Heavy. BERLIN, via Sayville Wireless, Dec. 2.—Fighting between Teutonic and Russian and Rumanian forces in the Carpathians and on the Transylvanian frontier is still in progress with the enemy suffering heavy losses, the war office announced Saturday.

On Field Marshal von Mackensen's front a big battle has developed. The first Rumanian army which offered an engagement southeast of Ploesti has been broken through and defeated, the statement declared.

Terrific Drive Continues. LONDON, Dec. 2.—Russia is striking with a giant's force the blows which it is hoped, will smash the Teutonic ring of steel gripping Rumania. Dispatches Saturday indicated no let-up in the terrific offensive launched by the czar's legions in Dobruja and southwest of Bukovina.

The flanking movement directed at the Jassi-Lutza pass is the most serious menace to German positions in Rumania.

Apparently Russia has poured a mass of men into the effort to aid Rumania. It is conceded that the Teutons must meet this menace of the flanking movement in Bukovina with a large number of defenders. This Russian offensive covers a distance of more than 250 miles.

Surrender of the Austro-German forces at Kirlibaba would not be surprising in view of the Russian claims of domination of this important strategic position and railroad center through control of the heights about it.

The Cologne Gazette publishes an unconfirmed report that Russian troops have arrived at Bucharest.

Vienna Chinese Attacks Repulsed. AMSTERDAM, Dec. 2.—Undiminished violence in the Russian offensive in the Carpathians was reported in dispatches from Austrian headquarters received here Saturday. The attacks, it was said, were everywhere repulsed with heavy losses.

Serbs Report Germans Beaten. PARIS, Dec. 2.—Reprise by Serbians of a violent counter attack by Teutonic troops against their positions north of Granista and continuance of violent artillery combats in the Monastir region was detailed in Saturday's official statement.

Chain Raids Repulsed

LONDON, Dec. 2.—Two small trench raids, preceded by heavy fire for mortars, were beaten off by British forces near Souchez Friday evening, General Sir Douglas Haig reported Saturday. His report also mentioned hostile artillery firing north of Ypres and near Gueudecourt.

Only Artillery Duels

BERLIN, via Sayville Wireless, Dec. 2.—Only artillery duels were reported on the western front in Saturday's statement from the war office.

"On both banks of the Ancre, near St. Pierrevaux and south of the Somme, near Chaubines, there were temporary strong artillery duels," the statement said.

Italian Depots Fired

BERLIN, via Sayville Wireless, Dec. 2.—Austro-Hungarian artillery firing exploded several Italian ammunition and mine depots on the front from Karst Highland to Gorizia. Friday's Vienna official report, received here Saturday announced. Artillery combats continued along the whole line of this front. A very lively artillery combat was reported in the Karnian and Tyrolean sectors. A hostile aviator dropped bombs in the Adige valley without causing damage.

HERE ARE THE SOLDIERS' SUGGESTIONS FOR WELCOME ON RETURN FROM BORDER

Give the boys a chance! This is the appeal of Lieutenant George H. Hale to the people of La Crosse, in relation to the homecoming reception of M and B companies and the sanitary detachment. Lieutenant Hale's appeal is not a "sympathy racket." Nothing of the sort! What he wants the boys to have is A CHANCE TO MARCH.

"These fellows think they're some soldiers," said the lieutenant. "I guess they are. There is a record of it, in a way, but they weren't exactly wonderful soldiers when they left La Crosse; they have learned something on the hike.

Give Them Room

"Now, when we have marched in La Crosse, in the past, the militia has had little chance to show itself. The interest that made people crowd close up to the column as it passed through the streets was complimentary, but it did not make for a good military spectacle."

"This bunch of boys probably will never be together again just as they will come from the front to La Crosse within a few days. I want to ask those who have charge of their reception, and the good people of La Crosse in general, to give the boys a chance. Absolutely provide that not a single person shall cross the curb into the street for a distance of two blocks from the depot. Give us these two blocks to march in. Then the men will scatter, some of them never again to march together. We shall do well to keep them in marching order for two blocks, for they want to get to their families. I think everybody will be in sympathy with this suggestion."

The Boys We Left Behind

"Another suggestion I would like to make. It is that the boys who made our militia but could not go with it be recognized. I mean men like Rawlinson, Bradley, Ruppel, Peck and Thompson. These fellows held the La Crosse companies together when the task was a tough one, when Company M in particular was a shoe-string. They made our trip to the border possible, but in their long fight most of them became disqualified. With one it had been an operation, with another an accidental injury, others had grown too old in the service. They had made the militia, but they could not go with us."

Old Timers for Guard

"Now, I want to see these men—all the militia boys of our time who stayed at home—organized into a guard of honor to escort us from the trains."

There were tears in Lieutenant Hale's eyes—and he's about as much mollycoddle as a boy can be.

Tend to Routine; Let Men March

"One more idea that may help," continued the lieutenant. "When we get home and fall in for the march up the street, if the usual custom is followed some of our number will have to be detailed to take care of the equipment. This means that some of the men cannot march. I think they all should be in line. I wonder if some of the older militiamen, or the Spanish War Veterans, could not arrange a detail under the command of an officer to take charge of this routine, so that every man who went to the Mexican border will be in the line that marches up the La Crosse streets."

Would-Be Assassin Of President Creates Panic By Attacking Pedestrian

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 2.—Crazed by drink, a man flashing a large carving knife with which he said he would kill President Wilson as he passed through here Saturday afternoon, attacked a pedestrian in Reading Terminal, sent hundreds of travelers fleeing to safety and engaged three policemen before he was overpowered and arrested.

He gave his name as Jonathan Kraus, no home, when finally overpowered.

The man appeared before the president's train arrived here at 1:30 o'clock, but made a mistake in station.

Matted hair flowed over his shoulders and he continuously muttered to himself. Suddenly he drew the knife, leaped upon a man leaving the station and shouted: "You're the president! I shall kill you!"

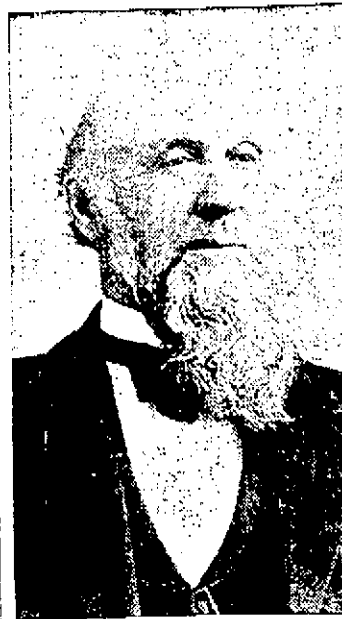

Dropping baggage and hat the stranger went down the steps three at a time, his assailant close behind. Women and children rushed in all directions, screaming for help.

Three reserve policemen leaped upon the man, but he fought for ten minutes before handcuffs could be adjusted.

Lloyd George To Leave Post London Rumor

LONDON, Dec. 2.—Rumors that David Lloyd George was packing up his belongings in his office as minister of war were printed in the London Evening News Saturday in support of the report that he was preparing to leave that post.

PIONEER BOOSTERS OF CITY MADE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE LIFE MEMBERS

J. H. MOULTON

Two pioneers of this city, La Crosse boosters from the time La Crosse was scarcely a speck on the map, have been honored by honorary life memberships in the newly organized Chamber of Commerce. Announcement of the presentation of life memberships in the organization to J. S. Medary and Captain J. H. Moulton was made Saturday at the offices of the Chamber. The action was taken at a recent meeting of the board of directors.

COURT EXONERATES LOCAL PLUMBERS SETS SMALL FINES

Judge Pollock in Des Moines Says Trane, Smidt and Niebuhr Are Morally Guiltless

TECHNICALLY LIABLE

Fines Running from $25 to $150 Are Assessed Against Thirty Found Guilty

DES MOINES, Iowa, Dec. 2.—With twenty-seven other master plumbers, James A. Trane, Lewis Smidt and H. H. Niebuhr of La Crosse were declared absolutely guiltless of any moral wrong or intentional violation of law, by Judge William H. Pollock in federal court here today.

Addressing the prosecutor, Judge Pollock displayed intense feeling as he declared:

"These men are in no sense any more criminals than you or I."

There was a large attendance, and the language of the court created a murmur of approval.

The court went on to say that the men, in a business way, "came within the scope of a regulatory provision," and that technically they had failed to comply with the provisions of the Sherman act. Judge Pollock disposed of the whole matter by imposing nominal fines, running from $25 to $150.

"The longer I sit on this bench," said Judge Pollock, "the more lenient I grow and I realize that these people are a part of the business of the country and that to take them away from their business would be to take away something from the country that it vastly needs."

Four other defendants failed to have Pollock reduce their fines of $1,000 each imposed last summer. In fixing the thirty men today, Judge Pollock asked them collectively: "Will the assessment of this fine impoverish your family or bring about hardships and make you go to jail unless it is lowered?"

Many of the defendants arose in open court and declared their families would be in great need if as much as $100, fine, and $100 costs were assessed. In each of these instances the court lowered the fine.

Those Fined

Among those fined today were H. H. Niebuhr, Lewis Smidt, James Trane, of La Crosse, Wis.

John R. King, Keokuk, Iowa.

Joseph C. Bixby and J. B. Cunningham of Omaha, Neb.

E. D. Hornbeck, Kansas City.

W. C. Haviland and W. J. Hilliard of Springfield, Ill.

William A. Decker, Grand Rapids.

William J. Wooley, Evansville, Ind.

Lewis Sonnetag, Pontiac, Mich.

W. W. Hughes, Minneapolis, Minn.

Frank Patterson, East St. Louis.

All were convicted in the government's prosecution of the so-called "plumbing trust."

REPORTS VARY ON FATE OF AMERICANS LEFT IN CHIHUAHUA

One Report Says They Were in the City When Villa Killed Chinamen; Another Says They Fled

CHIHUAHUA SURROUNDED

General Gonzales Announces Murgua Force Was Ordered to Attack the Northern Capital at Daybreak

EL PASO, Texas, Dec. 2.—Authentic information was obtained here Saturday from a high military source that at least eighty Chinese residents of Chihuahua City were clubbed to death by Villistas, following the capture of the city by the bandits, and that the six Americans known to have been in the northern capital before the bandit attack, were still in the city last Monday.

After interviewing dozens of refugees and checking their stories, United States military authorities here Saturday announced they were thoroughly convinced that the six missing Americans were still in Chihuahua City when Villa entered last Monday and that Villa made a speech Tuesday morning, ordering all Chinese and "gringos" to be slaughtered. Whether the Americans escaped the fate of the Chinese is not yet known.

This Report Contradictory. WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—All Americans had left Chihuahua City before the Villista-Carranza fighting began there, state department representatives on the border were told by all refugees with whom they talked, the department announced.

The refugees told state department border officials that Villa had ordered no looting and that they believed no foreigners, excepting two Chinamen, had been killed.

Ready for Counter Attack

EL PASO, Tex., Dec. 2.—General Gonzales, commander of the Carranza garrison at Juarez, announced Saturday that a heavy column of government troops, under General Murgua had reached Chihuahua City during the night, surrounding the city on two sides. Murgua had been ordered to attack the city at daybreak, Gonzales said.

At the Mexican consulate here, Consul Soriano Bravo stated he had no information of the military movements of General Murgua.

That the status of Carranza government in northern Mexico is "desperate" following the capture of Chihuahua City by Villa, was the admission made Saturday by friends of General Gonzales, commander of the government forces at Juarez.

"If Villa attempts to hold the northern capital," Gonzales said, "we will be able to converge from three sides with heavy forces and annihilate the bandit army. But indications are that Villa is making ready to move again. We have his channel of escape toward the south closed with our troops at Boreas."

Early in the day United States department agents here said the situation in regard to the safety of the six Americans known to have been in Chihuahua City at the time of the attack, was ominous. Lack of news of their fate for an entire week since the evacuation of the city by Carranzistas is looked upon as portentous. The only hope remaining is that the men may have fled to the hills or with Trevino to the southeast.

Fears of an immediate bandit attack upon Juarez were lessened by reports of preparations for evacuation of Chihuahua City by the bandit army.

Other Cities Fall

With the fall of Chihuahua City, a simultaneous campaign against the Carranza government has been started in all parts of Mexico by revolutionary leaders, according to advices here. Coordinated movements in several southern and central states of Mexico took place at the time of Villa's assault upon the northern capital. Information of the state of affairs existing throughout Mexico reached United States officials here Saturday.

During the last week four cities in southern Mexico fell before the revolutionists. The city of Orizaba, in the state of Vera Cruz, reports said, was taken by adherents of Felix Diaz on Saturday, while the capital of the state of Puebla is now under siege by Felicistas. In the federal district, near Mexico City, followers of Zapata have taken Cuernavaca and the Zapatistas are now operating in that district. In the state of Oaxaca, combined forces of revolutionists are in possession of the capital, according to word reaching the border. The western end of the Tehuantepec railway is in possession of Robles and Diaz followers and the capture of Salina Cruz was reported but never confirmed.

GREEK KING AGREES TO PARTIAL SURRENDER OF ARMS, IS ATHENS REPORT

WEST AVENUE AND PINE BARRED FOR CARS BY COUNCIL

Joint Committee Recommends Changes in Location Urged by State Rail Commission

ELEVENTH FOR WEST AVE.

Myrick Park Line Will Turn South on Seventh instead of Eighth Street

CHANGES RECOMMENDED BY COUNCIL COMMITTEES

Myrick Park Line to run west from West Avenue on Badger instead of Pine street, and south on Seventh instead of Eighth street to Main.

Market street line to run south on Eleventh street instead of West Avenue.

Two material changes in the routing of La Crosse street cars, which alter the plans of the Wisconsin Railway Light & Power company for track changes and extensions ordered by the state railroad commission, will be recommended to the common council by a joint committee which met in the council chamber on Friday night.

The Oak Grove line, if the report is adopted, will run from La Crosse street to Thirteenth and Badger streets over the present Forrest route. At Badger it will run west to Seventh, turning on Seventh and running to Main street. The plan of the street car company, in its proposal to the council, was to operate the line on Pine street and on Eighth street.

The new street car line proposed for Twelfth street was killed by the committee and in its stead a report will urge the company be given the privilege of operating the line from Market street south to Farnum street on Eleventh street. West Avenue property owners, according to Alderman William Torrance and others objected to the plan, are against the West Avenue routing on account of the narrowness of the street.

To Tear Up Jackson Street Crook. Fourteenth street and Jackson street will be minus street car tracks. The committee agreed to allow the company to tear up its lines and erect instead a line from the southern end of the tracks on Sixteenth and Jackson streets, south on Sixteenth street to Farnum street. The plan is eventually to connect the Market street line, which will also end at Eleventh and Farnum, and the Sixteenth Street line, by a line to form a loop.

A lively argument followed objections to a clause in the ordinance allowing the company the privilege of building single or double track lines. The clause was not changed. Committee men ran into deadlock when the proposed traffic ordinance, which provides that all down town streets be cleared of standing automobiles and all vehicles, came up for consideration. Factions of the commission were divided.

IRON RING ON HIS OVERALLS SAVES LIFE OF SENEGAN

Revolver Bullet Strikes It and the Ring Is Buried in Frank Althous' Breast

PRAIRIE DU CHIEN, Wis.—(Special.)—A heavy iron ring which he wore on his overalls saved the life of Frank Althous, farmer near Seneca, when a bullet struck him in the chest. Instead of entering his body, the missile struck the ring, which buried itself two inches under the flesh.

Althous' two sons, aged 18 and 20, were said to be quarreling. One had threatened the other with a revolver, and their father was trying to take the weapon away from them when it was accidentally discharged.

Dr. Fernell, of Seneca, brought Althous to the sanitarium here. An X-ray photograph showed the iron ring lying two inches in the man's chest. It will be several days before it can be removed by operation, and physicians are in fear of infection taking place.

The sons later claimed that they were trying to remove the cartridges from the revolver when it was discharged. County authorities said that an investigation of the matter would be made.

QUERETARO, Mexico, Dec. 2.—

First Chief Carranza on Saturday outlined to the 252 delegates to Mexico's first liberal congress the terms of Mexico's new constitution. As detailed by the provisional president, the new instrument will contain reforms in labor and divorce laws; establishment of equal rights for all foreigners and, lastly and most important, utter abolition of class privileges. The proposed constitution adheres closely to the famous Declaration of Juarez.

ARMISTICE REACHED AFTER CLASHES IN STREETS OF ATHENS

Admiral Du Fournet, It Is Said, Has Agreed to Withdraw the Allied Troops from Greek Capital

ACTION A REVERSAL?

Should Confirmation Be Received, Greek Decision to Refuse Acquiescence to Demands Is Nullified

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—The Greek government on Saturday presented to the American minister at Athens a note of protest against measures by the entente allies against Greek neutrality. The Greek legation announced.

LONDON, Dec. 2.—Armistice has been affected between allied troops and Greek reservists at Athens. A Reuter dispatch from the Greek capital Saturday asserted that King Constantine had agreed to delivery of six mountain batteries to the allies.

In return, it was said, Admiral Du Fournet agreed to withdraw allied troops from the city, pending reference of the agreement to the allied governments.

London regarded this dispatch as indicating a clearing up in the admittedly tense situation brought about by initial refusal of the Greek government to acquiesce in Du Fournet's demand for disarmament of Greece. This refusal was marked with sanguinary clashes between allied and Greek reservists, according to dispatches dated Friday and received here early Saturday. There were encounters at three points in the outskirts of the city. A veritable panic seized upon the residents of the Greek capital—the streets were deserted of civilians, the shops were all closed and all traffic suspended.

Not only were there open outbreaks of fighting in the outskirts of the city between reservists and allied troops—mostly French sailors—but dispatches said there had been lively street fusillades exchanged between members of the royalist and Venizelos factions—the clashes in some instances occurring in the heart of the city.

The armistice which has apparently terminated this critical situation in the city, was reached at Admiral Du Fournet's suggestion, according to information from Greek sources at Athens. A Central News dispatch declared that the encounters in the city had been "terminated" and negotiations were proceeding.

If official advices later confirm the decision of King Constantine to surrender six mountain batteries, such a partial acquiescence in Admiral Du Fournet's demands will be a complete reversal of the determination arrived at not only by the king, but by the crown council and the cabinet. These three governmental agencies all agreed two days ago to resist all attempts by the allies to force surrender of arms.

Says Armistice Fails

LONDON, Dec. 2.—That the armistice reported to have been arranged in Athens in settlement of the Greek-alley controversy has failed, was reported in a dispatch Saturday by the London Evening Star, dated Athens, Friday, 7:45 p. m.

The dispatch declared the "battle" on the hills south of Athens had been renewed with an artillery attack by Franco-British forces.

The same correspondent was authority for the statement that ships in the Zapparon fleet had fired towards the hills and that two shells had fallen near the center of the city.

It is feared, the Star dispatch declared, that 35 French marines have been taken prisoners by the Greek forces.

CLASS EQUALITY, RIGHTS OF ALIENS, ARE PROVIDED FOR

First Chief Carranza on Saturday outlined to the 252 delegates to Mexico's first liberal congress the terms of Mexico's new constitution. As detailed by the provisional president, the new instrument will contain reforms in labor and divorce laws; establishment of equal rights for all foreigners and, lastly and most important, utter abolition of class privileges. NEW ALBIN FAMILY TRAPPED BY FIRE WHEN HOME BURNS

Flaming Stairway Prevents Them from Escaping for Several Minutes But Aid Comes

NEW ALBIN, Iowa.—(Special.)—Mrs. H. F. Ayers and family were trapped in their home here for several minutes, when the residence caught on fire early Wednesday morning. Mrs. Ayers was the first in the house to be aroused by the dense cloud of smoke. She roused other members of the family, but they found the stairway leading to the lower floor in flames. The flames attracted the attention of people, however, and within a few minutes the fire was being fought. With an opening being made in the cellar, where the conflagration began, the family was allowed to leave the house. Efforts made by practically all the male inhabitants of New Albin to put out the fire, saved the building from destruction.

The TRIBUNE'S Daily Short Story

THE BEST MAN WINS

BY SUSAN E. CLAGETT

(Copyright, 1918, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

"You have heard of the place paved with good intentions, Pauline, dear. I am afraid many bricks are laid to my credit, for my intentions are always good but fail of accomplishment. I mean to write, but somehow never do. This time you must forgive me, for I am most unhappy. And my unhappiness came from out a clear sky. Since then I have sounded the depths. Blueness! Despair better describes my feelings. Father is obtuse. Mother sides with him.

"It is nothing but pigheaded obstinacy in father. Any one looking at Howard would know he is a gentleman. He certainly is good to look at, and, of course, I think the sun rises and sets in him. But father will not listen when I tell him we are engaged. He merely says: 'When you care for a man, Jane, you can marry him as soon as he asks you, but so long as I live a make-believe one shall never have you.'

"What do you think he means? Howard is a perfect escort. He dances beautifully, sings divinely and sends me the loveliest flowers. I will wait for a little while to see if father comes around, and if he won't I'll run away."

"July 20th—I thought my letter had reached you but have just found it in my portfolio. When I wrote a month ago I thought myself encompassed by misery, but my feelings were as nothing to what they have been the past few days.

"Father told me I must break off my engagement; that I should not see Howard again. I stormed. He said very little—just sat in his Morris chair and looked at me. I broke down and cried. I thought I had won him over then, for he looked as if he was going to cry with me. He didn't. He merely said, 'Jane, put on your hat and take a drive with your mother and me.' That was all.

"I told myself I wouldn't. But I have never disobeyed father in my life and we started on that drive. It was a long one, it took us three days to reach this place, a little farm at the end of nowhere, thirty miles from the nearest railroad station. There is no post-office, no telephone, no car!

"I didn't find this out at first, not until after father and mother had gone. They wouldn't look on in my room at home, but, Pauline, they have worse. They have left me here with two old people who lived with my grandfather when Dad was a little boy.

"As we were leaving home I received such a dear letter from Howard and it set my heart to singing in spite of my dash with father. But now everything is black again. I do not know the name of the railroad station so many miles away, nor the name of the village postoffice, which is almost as far. No one will tell me and Howard's letter has been a month unanswered. What can he think of me?"

"July 20th—Pauline, dear, it is a comfort to chat with you, even if my letter has to wait forever and forever to reach the office. I do get so hungry for home news. Mother has written once, but not a word from Dad, which shows plainly that I am still in disgrace. Today Peter told me he might go to the station for mail. If he didn't, he thought Dan Isham would take my letters. Who ever is Dan Isham? I haven't seen a man, except Peter, since father left me here. I wonder if he is as old and wrinkled as Peter."

"July 21st—He came before I had finished my letter. Just an ordinary farmer sort of person with overalls tucked into high boots, a coarse, faded blue gingham shirt and an old hat that looked as if it had come out of the Ark. He took my letters without a word, but as he saw Howard's name on the first of the bunch he gave a little start and looked straight at me. He has nice eyes. I saw that, although he turned them away at once. I wonder what made him look at me so queerly when he saw Howard's name. I wonder what he thought of me. I had on that green striped voile you say is so charming. It must be, for Howard told me I looked like a picture in it."

"August 10th—I am seeing a good deal of Dan Isham. He lives on the next place, wherever that is.

"He isn't a bit like Howard, but he knows where to find the loveliest wood flowers, and this morning showed me the cutest little open-mouthed baby birds; mocking birds, he said they were. Tomorrow he is going to bring a horse and teach me to ride. No. I cannot quarrel with him."

"August 20th—That is just what I have done. I told him I had received no letters because I could not send my address and asked him the name of the postoffice.

"He refused to tell me. He said if my father had wanted me to know he would have told me himself.

"I glared. Then I flew into a passion. That didn't move him in the least. He merely said:

"I think I will let you have it out by yourself. When you are in a good humor let me know, and off he walked.

"Let him know. I'll talk to the dog and cat and chickens first. Oh, if I could only see Howard. I am so unhappy."

"August 24th—Dan didn't wait for me. He came this morning and asked me to walk to King's Creek with him. I don't know what got into me, but I felt I must talk to Howard. I told of our engagement, and how determined father is that it shall be broken off, but that I was determined to marry him when I became of age.

"And when will that be?" he asked.

"Your appearance suggests nothing so much as that of a pretty spoiled child of twelve."

"Spoiled child!" I gasped. I bit my lip until the blood came to keep back the words. But I had had three days of my own society. It was not enjoyable. I could not control my voice, however, so I turned my back on him. As I did so I caught sight of something that turned me cold with fright. Coming towards us with lowered head was a great black bull.

"Something in my terrified silence must have made itself felt, for Dan said quickly, 'What is it? What is the matter, Jane?'

"His voice broke the tension. With a shuddering sob I caught hold of him and hid my face against his shoulder.

"Why, child! Then the low mutter of that awful animal made him turn suddenly. Will you believe me, Pauline, Dan Isham laughed, but he didn't let me go. He put his hand under my chin and made me look at him. What he saw in my eyes I do not know. What I saw in his made me again hide my face against that old, faded, blue shirt. Even through my fear I was glad father had told Howard Chandler I should not marry him.

"I did not mind Dan's laughing, there was such comfort in feeling his arms about me, but for propriety's sake I tried to slip from them, when he said:

"Jane, that steer is one of the Peter's ox team and is a gentle as a lamb. Truly, I am thankful he put in an appearance just now for I have been wondering ever since you began talking of Chandler, how long it would have to wait before you found out you loved me instead. For you do love me. There is no question about my feeling for you. I surrendered the first time I saw you."

"I giggled, Pauline. That green sprinkled voile did make an impression.

"When we at last reached the house who should we find but father, and he shook Dan's hand as if he had known him all his life. It seems Dan had studied law in the office and had been associated more or less with Dan ever since. I don't know why I had never met him. It just happened so, I suppose.

"Of course, Dan didn't rest until he had told father about ourselves. When he finished, Dad looked at me with a twinkle in his eyes that made me suspicious, but he said very solemnly:

"You can have her, Dan. You surely are a man after my own heart."

"I wonder, Pauline. I wonder. Do you think Dad could have had this in mind when he left me thirty miles from a postoffice?"

"MOUNT CALM" TO BE NAME OF BRYAN'S NEW NORTH CAROLINA HOME

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—William J. Bryan will build a home on the top of a hill and name it "Mount Calm." It will be at Asheville, N. C., just one night's ride from Washington. The last fact is his reason. Bryan will maintain his legal residence in Nebraska.

WEATHER

U.S. Weather Bureau

Sunrise tomorrow, 7:22 a. m.
Sunset tomorrow, 4:28 p. m.

Yesterday's Temperatures
High, 48; low, 26; precipitation, 0.

Forecast
For Wisconsin: Fair tonight and probably Sunday. High temperature, Southern winds increasing Sunday.

For Minnesota: Fair and warmer tonight. Sunday partly cloudy. Fresh southerly winds.

For Iowa: Fair tonight and probably Sunday. Warmer tonight and in east portion Sunday. Fresh southerly winds.

Weather Conditions
The pressure is highest over the Gulf states and the weather is fair and cold in that section, with frost to the Gulf coast. A decided low covers the northwest and the temperature is generally higher west of the Mississippi valley.

Fair weather prevails over the Pacific coast and in northwest, where rain and snow are falling.

The western low will cause rising temperature in this section tonight and Sunday and the weather will probably be fair.

NOT THE ACTRESS

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Dec. 2.—The "Nan Patterson" mentioned in the divorce suit by Mrs. Viola Dillingham against Frank Dillingham, now in court here, is not the actress of that name formerly prominent in Ziegfeld shows. A motion made by her attorneys calls for striking her name out of the court papers. Affidavits supporting the motion, showed that Mrs. Dillingham's petition referred to a woman who had been fraudulently using the name "Nan Patterson."

TO CLEAN WHITE FUR

Heat a generous quantity of new bran in a pan, stirring constantly until well heated. Rub into the fur, repeating at least three times, keeping the bran as hot as can be handled while using. Shake the fur and brush briskly, and when the bran is removed the dust and dirt will have vanished.

A Clear Complexion

Most every woman wants a nice, clear complexion, and can have it at a trifling cost. Constipation in women is increasing to an alarming extent, and this causes poor circulation which accounts for yellow, muddy, pimply complexions which so many women are trying to overcome.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets is the one dependable remedy for bad complexions. They act on the liver and bowels like calomel, yet have no dangerous after-effects. They assist nature to throw off the impurities that get into the blood. They will surely clear up, even the most obstinate, inconstituted quickly and cause the entire system, giving a pure, fresh, ruddy skin. They are absolutely pure—easy to take and correct constipation. They act quickly, cleanse and purify—and make you feel fine. Start treatment now. Get a box from any druggist—10c and 25c.

PROPERTY AND PROGRESS

"There is a tide in the affairs of men which, taken at the flood, leads on to fortune". Many men measure the tides of their own fortunes in terms of cash in hand. Others, capable of a wider view, get into the current of progress and absorb its unearned increments.

"I saw the time when I could have bought it for a song", has been said a thousand thousand times of this or that now valuable tract upon which stands a towering sky-scraper or palatial residence. "Of course I see now that I ought to have taken advantage of the time, but somehow I could not realize what was going on until after it had happened."

"Of all sad words of tongue or pen, the saddest are these: 'IT MIGHT HAVE BEEN'". The progress of all large groups is not always so easy to perceive, especially to one who is in the group. Civic changes, though rapid and stupendous when viewed as accomplished facts, are seemingly slow and often altogether unnoticeable as they daily take on the scale of increase. The growth of cities is like the growth of trees—hard to perceive unless viewed only at intervals.

There is a bad spot on the trunk of the tree, where a limb has been removed. The elements are at work driving a shaft of rot towards its very heart. Should one fail to consider the richness of the soil and the youth and vigor of the tree, the conclusion that it must die were natural. But five years later one finds the soft spot entirely grown over, the wound healed.

Only a few years ago there were "soft spots" to be seen in La Crosse, as a real estate prospect. Even now there may be among us those who do not see that these places are being protected by sturdy new growth. Perhaps but for the important information gathered and published in The Tribune's "New Era Edition" last week, a majority of citizens would not have realized the magnificent stride for a larger, better and handsomer city into which La Crosse has swung.

If you have been doubtful about buying that lot, building that residence or business block, or expanding your business because of the pessimism of the past, read again this New Era Edition of The TRIBUNE. Read particularly the article on the building activities. Those facts, there gathered and focused into a concrete view of what is actually going on, may mean thousands of dollars to you if you shall know and comprehend them.

NEW YORK IMPROVING

Americans in general regard New York City as incapable of self-government. That idea became fixed in the nation's mind long ago, as a natural result of corrupt Tammany rule and contented acquiescence on the part of the "better classes". An echo of this still prevalent conviction came from W. J. Bryan the other day, in the remark, "New York never started a reform". But if the judgment of one of our most modern city-reformers counts for anything, the metropolis has outlived its ancient shame and become politically respectable.

Mr. Waite, "manager" of Dayton, O., and president of the National City Managers' association, after looking into the personnel and methods of New York's present city government, declares that he is "greatly impressed by the high standards of efficiency attained and the work accomplished."

The achievement that has won this tribute is the product of a non-partisan administration, put in power by an anti-Tammany coalition. The New York World points out that in fifteen years there have not been more than two of out-and-out Tammany rule. Gaynor, though elected as a Tammany man, was not a Tammany mayor. Mayor Mitchel and the group of men associated with him are recognized experts in city government, with no political affiliations controlling their official conduct.

New York is really setting an example to many smaller cities in non-partisanship and an honest quest for efficiency. Its government is still enormously expensive, and unsatisfactory in many particulars, but the chief evils are a heritage of past years, and are being slowly eliminated.

FARM WOMEN

The British Columbia department of agriculture has four women on its advisory board. They were put on the board in the first place because the department was unable to find and remedy the conditions that were driving women from Canadian farms to the cities. The four women went at the problem and have accomplished good results.

One of the first moves they made was to organize women's agricultural institutes to which farm women could carry their problems with the assurance that they would receive sympathetic and intelligent assistance. Further than this, these women went around to individual farms and had conferences with farm women at their homes. From the knowledge of conditions they acquired they were able to make many recommendations to the agricultural department which have already made rural life more possible and have checked the stream of migration to the towns and cities.

Farm life for women has been none too easy in the past for women in the United States as well as in Canada. Better facilities for communication and social life are coming now. But there are still problems to be met. Getting the women's point of view isn't a bad way to go about it.

In arranging the budget of your activities for 1917, be liberal in those items to be devoted, not directly to your private affairs, but to community enterprises. These items of effort, seemingly diverted from your business, will return to you and yours enriched by the collective energy and intelligence of the entire business community. You will draw no fatter dividends.

No city can have a healthy growth unless its policy is to promote the welfare of all. The success and contentment of every group is essential to the well-being of every other group.

Quips and Cranks and Wanton Wiles

Out of the Mouths of Kids
Little Elsie had been chastised for misbehavior.
"What's the matter, dear?" asked her grandma. "Did you have an accident?"
"N-no, grandma," cooed Elsie. "It wasn't an accident. M-mamma did it on p-purpose."

Accounted For
"Have you ever noticed," said the nervous young man, striving to make conversation at the tea table, "that—er—bachelors, as a rule, are—er—much richer than married men?"
"Yes," replied the masculine looking lady, "because the colors of the militants, 'I have.'"
"Ah! And—er—how do you account for it?"
"Very simply. Poor men marry, and rich men don't. Men are always ready to divide nothing with a woman than something."

First Aid to the Injured
A hospital nurse was testing a volunteer on his practical knowledge of first aid work.
"Now, what would you do in case a man collapsed?" she asked.
"Give him some brandy, miss," replied the man.
"But suppose you had no brandy?"
"Sure, then," he answered cheerfully. "I'd promise him some. Miss."

They are Right
Tattered Tim—"I've been tramping four years, ma'am, an' it's all 'cause I heard the doctors recommend walkin' as the best exercise."
Mrs. Prim—"Well, the doctors are right. Walk along.—Kansas City Star."

What Would You Do? We Repeat
"How's the family?" a fond parent was asked.
"Well, my children are at a difficult age now."
"Difficult? Why, they've all passed the measles and teething stage, haven't they?"
"Long ago. But you don't know a father's troubles. My children are at an age when, if I use slang, my wife says I am setting a bad example, and if I speak correctly the kids think I'm a back number. Which would you do?"

THE TRIBUNE'S DAILY TRAVELETTE

(By Niblick)

BENARES
Benares is the holy city of India, the goal of ten thousand pilgrimages, the home of a hundred creeds. The sacred waters of Ganges wash by her gates, laden with the silt of a thousand miles of rich, over-cultivated plain, with the prayers of the devout, and the ashes of those whose bodies have been burned on her waters. Mother Ganges is one of the gods of the old faith, the deities that are still worshipped by the common people, not yet come to the point reached by their leaders, who see all desire as illusion.

Ganges banks at Benares are lined with temples, with steps leading down into the water, where the people bathe in the blessed fluid, where little children are dipped for the cleanliness of their bodies and the welfare of their souls. There are other steps, too, other ghats as they are called, where those whose bodies are past help are burned on the quiet waters, that their souls may find peace as soon as may be. In the tangled colorful native life that swarms up and down the banks you will find all the thousand and one varieties of holy men that tramp the thousand roads of India. To Benares they come sooner or later, to sit in the cool cells of broad-minded monasteries which do not split hairs in distinguishing between creeds, where a holy man is in question. Some of these wanderers have tramped every by-road in the empire, seeking the answer to the eternal question: in humanity, fasting and meditation.

Not many of these venerable holy men go down into the waters of Ganges. They seem to have outgrown the idea of bathing in a muddy river as a means of release from sin. But more credulous ones in a great stream pour into Benares daily, spending the savings of years perhaps on this trip to the second river. So holy is the water that here filling bottles with it is regarded over all India. So sacred are the river drops that the washing of Benares is enough to lend an atmosphere of holiness to the whole busy city.

DRINK HOT TEA FOR A BAD COLD

Get a small package of Hamburg Boast Tea, or as the German folks call it, "Hamburger Brust Tee," at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teaspoonful at any time. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking a cold at once.
It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore harmless.

OTHER PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

"Now if that ain't a woman all over," Joel interjected excitedly. "The toe of a stocking is a good enough bank for any of 'em, and us for using foresight and putting a little capital where it'll bring in an income for your old age, you'd think to hear 'em talk, that such a thing was never heard tell of. If I'd had the handling of the money that's come into this house Nor the last twenty years, we'd have been on Easy Street by now. But Persis has the kind of sense that doesn't take no account of reason. And as the poet says:

"He is a fool who thinks by force or skill To turn the current of a woman's will."

Thomas, purpling with resentment, addressed his next remark to Persis. "I don't s'pose our folks would take so much stock in all these fine promises if there wasn't a Clematis boy secretary of the company. I guess you remember him. Persis, Ware, his name was. Justin Ware."

"Yes, I remember him." An abrupt movement on Persis' part had unthreaded her needle. She bent close to the lamp, vainly trying to insert the unsteady end of the thread into the opening it had so lately quitted.

"I've been telling you right along you needed glasses," triumphed Joel. "And to keep on saying that you don't, ain't going to help the matter. When age, old age comes creeping on," as the poet says—

"I don't need glasses any more than you need a crutch." The denial came out with a snap. Persis Dale, patient to the point of weakness, enduring submission for twenty years the thankless exactions of her brother, provoked herself wholly human by her prompt resentment. "My eyes are as good as they ever were," she insisted, and closed the discussion, if she did not prove her point, by putting her work away. Secretary of an investment company making such golden promises! That looked as if at last fortune had smiled on Justin Ware.

The two men had the talk to themselves. Persis' absorption was penetrated now and then by references to the miracles wrought by scientific spraying and pruning, or the possibility of heating orchards so that late frosts would no longer have terrors for the fruit grower, sober facts which the literature of the Apple of Eden Investment Company had developed in the rosy atmosphere of romance. Like many people who have never made money by hard work, Joel believed proudly in making it by magic. His pallid face flushed feverishly, and his eyes glittered as he discussed the possibility of making a thousand dollars double itself in a year.

It was ten o'clock when Thomas again had the field to himself and in Clematis only sentimental visits were prolonged beyond that hour. Thomas' opportunity had arrived, but with it unluckily had come the recollection of a misdeed for which he must receive absolution before the flood-gates of his heart were opened.

Persis, do you remember that old Baptist minister who lived opposite the schoolhouse, when we were kids? Elder Buck, everybody called him. With an effort she set aside her own recollections in favor of his. "Oh, yes, I remember. The one whose false teeth were always slipping down."

"His picket fence was all torn to pieces one night. He had a way of calling names in the pulpit, the elder had—children of the devil and that sort of thing—and it got some of the boys riled. And to pay him back, they tore down his fence. Persis, I—I was one of those boys."

He looked at her appealingly and felt his heart sink. Persis' eyes were lowered. Her face was grave and a little sad as he felt one who has been tendered irrefutable proof of a friend's unworthiness. Thomas gulped. Well, it was only what he had expected all along. A woman like Persis could not be asked to overlook everything.

ure coming toward her across the dewy grass. In certain details it gave a realistic presentation of an Indian famine sufferer. In respect to costume, it was reminiscent of a bathing beach in mid-July.
"Of all things!" Persis gasped, one hand groping for support, while the other shaded her incredulous and indignant eyes. "Have you taken leave of your senses, Joel Dale?"
Her brother ascended the steps, wearing the expression of triumph ordinarily assumed in honor of his great hygienic discoveries. He replied to her question with another: "Persis, what do you s'pose is at the bottom of all human ills?"
Persis rallied.

GRAIN EMBARGO EXTENDED

NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—To beat the shippers who have been beating the partial embargo on grain and meat shipments for export, the New York Central said Friday it has refused to accept shipments originating on other lines and billed to junction points west of Buffalo. Shippers, the New York Central said, have been getting around the embargo established November 23 by billing to such junction points and then re-billing to New York.

It was said that the embargo itself probably would be lifted in a short time. It applies only to shipments originating on other lines and shipped via New York Central points west of Buffalo.

SHAMPOO JELLY

Good shampoo mixture is made by scraping three or four ounces of castile soap and pouring over it a pint of boiling water, keeping the liquid at boiling point, without cooking, until the soap is dissolved. It is poured into a wide-mouth jar, and when cooled is jelly. To a tablespoonful of this, when the time comes to use it, may be added one raw egg and a pinch of bicarbonate of soda. The ingredients being beaten together. The mixture is rubbed well into the scalp and over the hair before any water is put on.

TURNER LEADS CANADIANS

OTTAWA, Ont., Dec. 2.—The appointment of Major General Turner, V. C., as commander of Canadian forces in England, was officially confirmed here Friday.
General Turner won the Victoria cross during the South African war, and was in charge of the second division at the battle of Ypres. He is a son of the late Hon. Richard Turner, once member of the Quebec legislature.

A Polite Doubt

A fond parent was telling Oliver Herford of the really bright remark of her three-year-old daughter. Herford was much impressed.
"How old did you say little Lena is?" he asked.
"Only three," answered the mother answered proudly.
"Do you know," said the humorist, solemnly, "I have a suspicion that sometimes these children lie about their age!"

FERRY SHANTY AT NO. M'GREGOR IS BURNED BY I. W. W.

Fifteen Are Jailed for the Deed and When Rest of Bunch Learns Fate They Disappear

NORTH M'GREGOR, Iowa.—(Special.)—Fifteen I. W. W.'s arrived here and undertook to run things to suit themselves on Thursday. They demanded that the ferryman take them over to the island saloon, and when he refused they set fire to the ferry oil shanty on the river bank, and remarked, "If there are not enough of us to do business, there will be more here tomorrow."

The town officials took the leaders in and they are doing real work at the county seat for thirty days. The rest of the bunch arrived Friday, but when they learned the fate of the advance guard, they moved on.

Watches Stolen
Tuesday evening some sneak thief entered the bank car of the Mason City steam derrick crew, working here, and stole three watches, but missed the money in the other pockets, and one man's watch.

Dies Suddenly
Thursday forenoon at 11 o'clock John Berry, an aged and highly respected citizen, died suddenly while reading his morning paper. He had been in poor health for several months, but his passing away was unlooked for. His wife died about eleven months ago.

Mr. Berry was born in Westport, Mayo county, Ireland, June 24, 1835, and came to America when twelve years of age, settling in Syracuse, where he entered the employ of the C. M. and St. P. company, remaining constantly in their service for more than sixty years at Chicago, Prairie du Chien, Waukon and North McGregor, moving here some twenty-five years ago.

Six children mourn the loss of a kind and indulgent father: John Berry, St. Paul; J. M. Berry, Mrs. Mary Stanton, Margaret and Anna Berry, all of North McGregor, and Rose Berry, Madison, Wis. Funeral services were held at St. Patrick's church, Prairie du Chien, Saturday morning, at 8 o'clock.

Local and Personal
Ira B. Clark, in charge of the government fish rescue work here, accompanied his wife to their home in La Crosse Friday afternoon.

Nels O. Nielson arrived Wednesday afternoon from Petersburg, Alaska, where he spent the past six years. He came to look after his property here, having sold several lots to the Milwaukee company, as they were located in the route of the new Bloody Run waterway. From here he will go to Madison, Wis., to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ole Nielson.

Two sons were born to Mr. and Mrs. Joe Sievers, Thanksgiving morning. Mrs. F. H. Morgan and daughters Ruth and Harriet of Dubuque are spending the week-end with her parents, J. A. R. Morgan and wife.

Mrs. E. J. Palmer and daughter Dorothy of Dubuque, spent Thanksgiving with her parents, L. A. Monty and wife.

The brick work on the new round house is being rushed and many men are employed. Several of the brick masons are bringing their families here for the winter.

The ladies of the M. E. church held their annual supper and bazaar last Thursday evening and took in $56.85.

John Sass, Floyd Seart and Walter Seart have moved into their new homes in the suburban addition.

REUNION MARK
THANKSGIVING DAY
AT BLOOMINGTON

BLOOMINGTON, Wis.—(Special.)—Among the students who are home for Thanksgiving are: Doris Gilligan, Pessie Lord, Inez Brookings, Gladys Morgan, Fern and Florence Cooper, Florence McNamara of La Crosse Normal; Milton Frazier, Melvin Cooper, Fuller Porter, Velma Hope, Velma Hickok, Helen Nelson of Plattville normal; Walter Morrissey, Clara Edwards, Letha Haskins, Viola Pohle of Madison university; Pearl Schreiner, Beloit college.

Thanksgiving visitors in town were Earl Cooper, teacher at Marshall, Wis.; Miss Anderson, Chicago; F. V. Ketter and wife, Boscobel; Mrs. Monroe Oskins and children of Oskosh, Iowa; Charles Lutz and wife of Milwaukee; Henry Cooley, of Lancaster; Dr. F. E. Blackburn and wife, of Cassville; Lee Peacock of Prairie du Chien; E. W. Ransom and wife, Mt. Ida.

Editor Bishop, wife and children and Mrs. Mary Witcomb passed Thanksgiving at Elkader, Iowa. Dr. M. E. Glesier made a professional trip to Dubuque Friday. Mrs. Wm. Gates, Sr., an old resident of this vicinity, died Wednesday. Her funeral, Friday at Dodge church, was largely attended. Rev. H. J. Witherbee of La Crosse, preached the sermon.

Frank Newman will pass the winter in Brownsville, Texas. Thanksgiving services were held in the Baptist church, Rev. Snow of the M. E. church preaching the sermon. There was special music by a choir and an orchestra.

TWO BURNED IN BLAZE
CHICAGO, Dec. 2.—Two men were probably fatally burned in a cotton mill here Friday when fire started in a result of flying cotton catching in an electric fan. They were Peter Losko, 27, and Joseph Kazanski, 22.

He's a wise fool who can induce the world to laugh with him instead of at him.

CHILD'S TONGUE BECOMES COATED IF CONSTIPATED

When cross, feverish and sick give "California Syrup of Figs."

Children love this "fruit laxative," and nothing else cleanses the tender stomach, liver and bowels so nicely. A child simply will not stop playing to empty the bowels, and the result is, they become tightly clogged with waste, liver gets sluggish, stomach sours, then your little one becomes cross, half-sick, feverish, don't eat, sleep or act naturally, breath is bad, system full of cold, has sore throat, stomach-ache or diarrhoea. Listen, Mother! See if tongue is coated, then give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the system, and you have a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers give "California Syrup of Figs" because it is perfectly harmless; children love it, and it never fails to act on the stomach, liver and bowels. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.

HOLIDAY BRINGS TRAGEDY UPON A MAUSTON FAMILY

MAUSTON, Wis.—(Special.)—Thanksgiving Day brought grief and sorrow to the home of Frank R. Steiner here, for his sixteen-year-old son Herman drowned on a hunting trip.

Herman Steiner and Ephram Rapp, both young school boys through the ice of the Lemonvior river, just west of Little Bluff, early Thursday morning. They were on a little hunting jaunt together. They were crossing a slough and when about twenty feet from shore the ice sank with them.

Indian Saves Dapp
An Indian had heard their cries for help but before he could reach them Steiner had sunk. Rapp was still struggling frantically. The Indian at first attempted to pull Rapp out with out the aid of any support but later used his canoe paddle. He then succeeded in getting him onto the solid ice. Then both directed their attention to Steiner. He could not be seen.

The report spread rapidly to the city and a large number of Maustons rushed to the scene. Steiner's body was soon recovered and taken to Groezel's undertaking establishment. Later his body was taken to the home of his parents.

The young man was the fifth son of Mr. Mrs. F. Steiner of this city. He was 16 years old and a student of the Mauston high school.

ALMOST CAUGHT JONES

KENOSHA, Wis.—Police here are patting themselves for their thief catching ability. They just missed catching a man, whose name was given as John Jones. The only clue the police found was a set of false teeth.

Instead of pursuing Jones the police sat down and waited for him to return. Sure enough an hour later, in walked Jones to give himself up and get his teeth back. He said he preferred jail and eat as he was unable to eat without his teeth.

THE AUTHOR OF EVIL

Inquire no longer who is the author of evil. Behold him in yourself. There exists no other evil in Nature than what you either do or suffer and you are equally the author of both. A general evil could exist only in disorder, but in the system of Nature I see an established order which is never disturbed. Particular evil exists only in the sentiment of the suffering being, and this sentiment away, in short, everything that is not given to man by Nature, and work of man, and all that remains is his own acquisition. Pain and sorrow have but little hold on those who unaccustomed to reflection have their senses so much absorbed in the material that they never take away our errors and our vices—take away our mistakes and our faults—take away our suffering and our pain. PAULIST CHOIR TREAT CHOICE AS IT WAS UNIQUE

Style Faultless in Artistic Chastity Is Verdict of the Critic Who Hears Concert

(By Isidor Timpmann.)
The multitudinous assemblage which filled the La Crosse theater yesterday afternoon to hear the concert of the Paulist Chorists received a treat which was as choice as it was unique.

When Rev. William J. Finn, the highly capable conductor of the organization, raised his baton to begin the first number of the exacting program, "Deep silence reigned among the auditors and as the program progressed this silence deepened into actual devotion, which held the hearts and minds capable to experience such divine sentiments in irresistible beauty. It seemed as if peace on earth, the good will toward all mankind was a living and integral part of the human family and the fact that one half of the civilized world is now engaged in merciless murder, while the other half is either passively looking on or helps to furnish the means to aggravate and prolong the most awful tragedy this world has ever witnessed, was for the time being forgotten.

The concert program consisted of two parts, the first of which was devoted to sacred, while the second offered secular compositions.

While all the works of the first part were good music, the Salve Regina by Waddington by its wonderful purity of style and its dramatic intensity, then the Veni Jesu of Cherubini, must be accorded the palm. These two numbers undoubtedly showed the chorus and the temperamental conductor at their best. The dynamic gradations were wonderful, the sustenance of volume and quality of tone admirable and the style faultless in its artistic chastity.

Rossini's "Inflammation" gave Master Le Roy Kutzner an opportunity to show his excellent voice, which he used most commendably. The number had to be repeated.

In the second part of the program the remarkable training of the young voices in point of flexibility and technical efficiency came more into the foreground and it would be difficult to name the number in this part which was done best. Two mature singers, Mr. McGrath, tenor and Mr. Dunford, bass distinguished themselves in the performance of the English, the other Scotch, and his presentation of them in point of style and expression left nothing to desire. Particularly successful was Mr. McGrath in the selection of his encore number entitled "Mamma Song," which by his charming delivery captivated the listeners. Mr. Dunford has a beautiful bass voice and his aria from Gounod's "Philemon et Baucis" was one of the gems of the program. The artist sang a pleasing encore number.

Miss Mary Anderson played musically accompanied on a rather under-nourished piano for every program number. The Paulist chorists' concert made an unforgettable impression on the minds and hearts of all who attended their concert.

Mrs. George M. Erickson and daughters, Helen and Mildred, left today for a visit at Des Moines. The Misses Esther and Louise Knudson have returned from a six weeks' visit in Minneapolis, where they were guests of Miss Esther Hurdmark.

Y. W. C. A. NOTES

The Sunday afternoon vespers will be held at the Y. W. C. A. as usual tomorrow afternoon, followed by vespers tea. Efforts are being made to secure Dr. Rogers, of Waukesha, who has been in the city for some time, for an address at this meeting. Members of the First Baptist church will be hostesses at the social hour during December, separate groups being in charge each Sunday.

A group of girls were entertained informally at the association last evening to meet Miss Esther Anderson, of Central Field headquarters. Miss Anderson spoke to the girls on association work in other countries, telling of many interesting incidents in her experience as a Y. W. C. A. secretary in Australia.

A Bible class is being organized at the Y. W. C. A. which is open to all interested young women. Mrs. George H. Brettnall will be in charge of the class, which will meet at the association at half-past six o'clock on Wednesday evenings, to continue for one hour, thus leaving the members free to fill other engagements for that evening.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

The Child Welfare Circle will hold its regular monthly meeting at the Public Library at three o'clock on Monday afternoon.

The Milwaukee-Downer club will meet on Monday afternoon at four o'clock with Mrs. Elizabeth Irish, 904 Cass street.

The Catholic Women's league will hold its regular meeting Thursday evening, December 7th. This meeting will be held at the club rooms, 205 South Seventh street, instead of at St. Mary's as has been the custom in the past.

The Monday Bridge club will be entertained Monday afternoon by Mrs. Carl N. Langebach, 925 South Third street.

GUILD HOLDS BAZAAR

The Women's Guild of Christ Episcopal church will hold their annual bazaar on Saturday, December 9th, from ten to six o'clock in the majestic building, 524 Main street. The ladies have been working hard for this affair for many weeks, and a variety of handsome and useful articles seldom equalled will be offered for sale. Mesdames E. McCormick and Harry J. Hirschheimer have charge of the lunch, cloths and table linen department. Mesdames Edwin M. Wing and Harry M. Curtis offer bags of every kind, ornamental and utility bags to serve every purpose. Aprons and household articles will be found in the department presided over by Mrs. Charles W. Lewis; Mrs. Edwin C. Thompson has charge of a group of girls who have been making cake and candy boxes for the sale, also offering home made candies for filling the boxes. A feature of the affair will be the home cooking department over which Mrs. R. W. Keyes has supervision.

PARCEL SALE

Offering for sale articles "unsight, unseen," the Ladies' Industrial circle of the First Baptist church will hold a parcel sale at the church parlors Thursday afternoon and evening, the sale to be opened at five o'clock. However, lest anyone fear that he will be purchasing "a pig in a poke," the ladies are assuring all prospective buyers that they will positively receive the full equivalent of the price marked upon each package. Supper will be served by the ladies at six o'clock.

YEOMEN EVENTS

The social dance given by the Brotherhood of American Yeomen Tuesday evening was well attended, as was also the Thanksgiving dance on Thursday evening. Music was furnished by the six piece Yeomen orchestra.

The Yeomen will hold their regular meeting in the lodge room next Tuesday evening, at which time the annual election of officers will take place. In the afternoon the Circle will meet for the election of officers.

If you get the busy signal don't blame me

IT is easier to complete a telephone connection than to report a line busy.

When the operator, whose duty it is to complete the connection, tests the line and finds it busy, an electrical device called the Busy signal notifies the calling subscriber that the line is engaged.

Many business establishments fail to provide enough equipment to handle their calls. This results in customers getting the busy signal frequently.

If in doubt as to the adequacy of your telephone facilities, consult our Commercial Department.

WHEN DIGESTION IS A BURDEN

When digestion is impaired you can nearly always look to a lazy liver and constipated bowels as the real cause

When you think of the suffering after each meal from Heartburn, Bloating, Nausea, Headache it is no wonder you have no interest in mealtime. Soon you lose flesh and are in a rundown condition. You must help Nature correct such ailments so that the body can be properly nourished. This suggests a fair trial of

ST. PAUL ASKS LA CROSSE TO PLAY WITH HER
"Come and play with us."
This invitation was extended to La Crosse through the Chamber of Commerce on Friday by Charles Marks, representing the Outdoor Sports Carnival of St. Paul, which is to be held for the second time from January 27 to February 3, 1917. Mr. Marks came to La Crosse especially to invite a delegation of uniformed marchers from this city to take part in the parade and games which St. Paul predicts will become the Mardi Gras of the north.
Mr. Marks declared on Friday that between 50,000 and 100,000 guests are assured for the carnival, and declared that reservations had already been requested from as far as the Pacific coast.

DODGE BROTHERS MOTOR CAR

Perfect balance of light strong parts contributes to economy as well as efficient performance.
The light weight of the car is due to the absence of heavy castings and the use, instead, of pressed steel parts and well designed steel forgings.
This lightness means less gasoline.
Car weight and tire size are carefully calculated, and this means greater tire mileage.
As a result the car is establishing a very notable record for low cost of maintenance, and freedom from repair.
In and of itself it constitutes a very strong incentive to ownership.
It will pay you to visit us and examine this car

The gasoline consumption is unusually low.
The tire mileage is unusually high.
The price of the Touring Car or Roadster, complete, is $785 (f. o. b. Detroit)
The price of the Winter Touring Car or Roadster complete including regular mohair top is $950 (f. o. b. Detroit)

ARMS EMBARGO MAY BECOME ISSUE IN MEXICAN DEALINGS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—The American embargo on shipment of arms across the border promised Saturday to become a live issue between this government and Mexico.
Carranza's advisers here secretly are displeased at the United States' regulations which, they claim, in practice (though not theory) prevent Carranzistas and Villistas from getting shipments.

The ordinance committee will recommend no change in the present sixteen-ounce minimum bread ordinance. A motion to table Alderman T. Schulze's ordinance doing away with the present bread law and instituting a minimum weight of twenty-six ounces with dust-proof wrapper proviso, was passed unanimously. Edwin Erickson, manager of the Erickson Baking company, declared that the bakers of La Crosse were not in favor of a change and that they were satisfied with the present ordinance. John Murray, prominent La Crosse grocer, told the aldermen that in his opinion bread was selling in La Crosse cheaper than in any city in the United States.
Proposed increase of five dollars in the salaries of all members of the Friday night and will be recommended to the council. If passed the new scale of wages will be as follows:
Chief, $1,500; engineer, $1,020; electrician, $960; captain of station No. 1, $1,080; captains of stations 2, 3, 4 and 5, $990; lieutenant station No. 1, $960; lieutenants of stations 2, 3, 4 and 5, $930; drivers, $930; tilermen, $930; ironmen and clerk, $930; first and second year men, $780; third year men, $810; fourth year men, $900.

WISCONSIN WANTS ALL TROOPS AT HOME IN HOLIDAYS

MADISON, Wis., Dec. 2.—(Special.)—All the Wisconsin guardsmen now on the border will "out of the trenches by Christmas." If the influence of Governor Philipp and Adjutant General Orlando Holway with the federal war department is sufficient to inspire an order for the recall of the Badger troops, General Holway will leave for Washington on Sunday, at the request of the governor to confer with the war department officials relative to the return of the guard.
Steps will also be taken by the general to provide for the mustering out of the Wisconsin troops at San Antonio instead of at Fort Sheridan, Ill. This is urged for the reason that the process can be accomplished more quickly and bring the men back home at least two weeks earlier.
"I have taken this matter up with the war department," said General Holway, "but objection is made for the reason that it is contended the troops can be returned with better discipline under federal control than under the care of state guard officers. I know this is not true with the Wisconsin guard, but I realize that exception cannot be made to a general rule for one state.
Although General Holway would give no definite information as to the time the troops would return, the general impression was gained that they will come back not later than the first of the year.

KICK DOWNSTAIRS TOO MUCH FOR HER SHE ASKS DECREE

Mrs. Ruth Scholberg could stand minor abuse from her husband, Lewis Scholberg, a Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad man, but when he kicked her down the stairs of their home here, as Mrs. Scholberg declares, he reached the end of his domestic rope.
Through her attorneys, Morris, Hartwell & Holmes, Mrs. Scholberg filed suit for divorce in circuit court on Saturday morning. Aside from the incident of the kicking, Mrs. Scholberg charges that when her husband laid over in Portage, on his run from La Crosse, he openly paid attention to other women. She also charges non-support.
Cruel and inhuman treatment charges were the basis for the divorce suit of Mrs. Mary Fox against Norman Fox, heard in circuit court on Saturday morning. The pair are from Vernon county. Mrs. Fox, who did not appear to be more than twenty years of age, declared on the witness stand that her husband, a railroad man, lay in an intoxicated stupor in the woodshed of their home while their baby was born. The case was not finished.

ART NOTES

The Rookwood Pottery
It may not be without interest to those who did not bear Mr. Coate's talk Friday evening at the Art Exhibit to have a brief summary of the history and development of the Rookwood pottery. In the talk, a history of its founding, of the discovery of the different glazes or kinds of ware, and of the Rookwood trademark and its significance, and how to know a genuine piece, all were explained. Something was given also on what makes for merit in pottery and one of the three methods of making it described—that which is "thrown" or made on the potter's wheel. Some of these points will be reviewed in this article. Miss Rena Angell, of the normal school art department, is to give another talk some evening the coming week, upon the other processes of vase making, perhaps demonstrating her remarks.
Rookwood pottery was founded in 1890 by Mrs. Maria Longworth Storer, an aunt of Nicholas Longworth, who named it Rookwood, after her father's country estate near Cincinnati.
The pottery is managed on lines opposite to the prevailing factory system. The effort is to attain a higher art rather than cheaper processes, and a cheaper product. No printing patterns are used nor any duplicates made. A spirit of freedom and liberality has always prevailed in the factory, in order to cultivate in every way individual artistic feeling among the workers employed.
The decorators are forty in number, made up of both men and women, drawn chiefly from the Art Academy of Cincinnati. Each is a thoroughly trained designer and artist.
The decorations are placed upon the moist clay before firing, the colors being mixed with clay, called "slip," and becoming part of the ware itself. The pieces, after decoration, are fired into "bisquit," as it is now called, and the various glazes are applied in subsequent firings.
Each decoration is the creation of one of these forty artists, who cuts his initial in the bottom of the piece. This design is never again exactly reproduced.
The glazes in use for all purposes are entirely American and largely from the Ohio Valley. These native clays from the start inclined the color quality toward yellows, browns and reds, and the decorative medium lent itself to a rather luxurious style of ornament in rich arrangements of warm color, all of which the transparent glazes merge in deep mellow tones. This became known as the "Standard" glaze. The production, however, is no longer as first, limited to a warm yellow, or red tone, for even dark pieces are often relieved with deep rich greens and blues.

The continuous experimenting at Rookwood produced first in 1896 the Mat Glaze, now among the most generally admired of its productions. In these the special quality is beauty of texture, though the range and variety of color is now very great. In this style flowers generally much conventionalized, and other subjects broadly modeled, are used, also motives derived from the American Indian designs and other conventional ornaments in low relief or "incised", i. e., cut in, the design being below the surface as an intaglio.
Then came a variation of the Mat Glaze type in 1904, known as "Vellum" ware, first shown at the St. Louis exposition and pronounced by the judges as the only ceramic novelty of the exposition. Its name indicates the peculiar charm of the glaze texture, and it presents what was considered among potters the extraordinary achievement of a transparent mat glaze developed in the fire and not by acid or other after-treatment. The exhibit at the Library shows three exquisite examples of the "Vellum" ware, and at the same time the wide range of color and decorative effects. Everyone of the three pieces of Vellum ought to remain in La Crosse to decorate some one's home.
It were tedious to describe in detail the two later glazes, the "Om-broso" developed in 1910, and the latest experiment, the "Soft Pottery" glaze of 1915, in which old Chinese soft-paste wares of one rich single color (so much sought by collectors) are imitated.
The exhibit will be open again on Sunday afternoon from two to six. The pictures will be changed today.

Surprisingly Good Cough Syrup Made at Home

Costs Very Little and Easily Made, but is Remarkably Effective.

You'll never really know what a fine cough syrup you can make until you prepare this famous home-made remedy. You not only save $2 as compared with the ready-made kind, but you will also have a more effective and dependable remedy in every way. It overcomes the usual coughs, throat or chest colds in 24 hours—relieves even whooping cough quickly.

Get 2½ ounces of Pinex (50 cents worth) from any good drug store, pour it into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. Here you have a full pint—a family supply—of the most effective cough syrup that money can buy—at a cost of only 54 cents or less. It never spoils.

The prompt and positive results given by this pleasant, soothing cough syrup have caused it to be used in more homes than any other remedy. It quickly loosens a dry, hoarse or tight cough, breaks the inflamed membranes that line the throat and bronchial tubes, and relieves even the most stubborn, persistent, chronic or bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, combined with glucose and has been used for generations for throat and chest ailments.

Avoid disappointment by asking your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions, and don't accept anything else. A guarantee of absolute satisfaction or money promptly returned, goes with this preparation. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

SWEDEN OFFERS A STRIKING PARADOX IN WAR SENTIMENT

There Are Anti-Russian, Anti-British and Pro-German Factions But All Are Pro-French

BY WM. PHILIP SIMMS
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

STOCKHOLM, Nov. 6.—(By Mail.)—Sweden is perhaps the most divided country in the universe over the war. One could not say with truth that Sweden is pro-ally or pro-German. There are many factions and each looks at the great conflagration in its own way.

Most everybody is anti-Russian. A great many are anti-British, a small circle are pro-German, but everybody is pro-French, even the pro-Germans. A strange paradox, but a true one. Still Sweden as a nation is neither pro-ally nor pro-Russia.

The Russian antipathy is historic. Sweden used to be on both sides of the Baltic. Russia took Finland and for generations Sweden has feared Russia some day would try to go further west, blinding a way to open ports of the Atlantic. German propaganda has helped this feeling along.

France, one and all say, has been the ideal country in this war, from the first gun till the last. She has fought like a lion and unselfishly. She has put herself, heart and soul, into the struggle and has always fought strictly according to Moyle. Her attitude has been nobility itself and not even the pro-Germans seem to hope for her defeat.

However, in this pro-German crowd, one hears that England is using France for her own selfish purposes. According to them England is aiming at world domination and that if the allies win and Germany is crushed, England will have her hand on the world's windpipe and can throttle it at leisure, commercially and otherwise.

And as proof of what England will do they point to the English blockade. Even now, they claim, Sweden is being sorely pinched economically by the action of England's fleet. The cost of living has gone up from 40 to 100 per cent, they assert, and certain commodities are not to be had at all. Should England become all-powerful, as she would in the event of a crushed Germany, what then would happen to Sweden?

Lots of Money
I asked President Carl Frisk of the Stockholm Handelsbank, one of the most powerful financiers in all Scandinavia and one of the best informed men in such matters in Sweden, about the effect of the British blockade and if it had affected the cost of living to any great extent. He did not seem to think it had. Living was higher, he said, but on an average not more than 25 to 30 per cent. Sweden is exceedingly prosperous and there is plenty of money in the land.

Perhaps the greatest authority on the cost of living in Sweden is Axel Robert Hildt, director of Transito Ltd., formed to handle freight "in transit" from foreign countries, through Sweden, to Russia. This concern was recognized by the British government and goods consigned to it were allowed free passage through the blockade because the firm had guaranteed that such goods would not be diverted to Germany, once in Sweden, as formerly had been the case very often. The pro-German press of Sweden fought Transito mercilessly, claiming that through it England was trying to get a strangle hold on the economic life of Sweden controlling every mouth full of food and all other supplies coming into the country.

"This assertion was utterly without foundation," Director Hildt told me. "We handle only in transit goods. These, now arriving in large quantities from America and other countries, are let through the blockade without delay. It is not true that England thus controls all Sweden's imports. We simply are surety to England that such goods are not consigned to us to go to their proper destination instead of to the central powers."

"Has the cost of living gone up very much since the war?" he was asked.

"Not more than in the United States, Argentina and other neutral countries, I should say," he replied. "At the start we had in Sweden abundant supplies of everything but Swedish dealers could not withstand the temptation and to sell and dispose of this surplus, principally to Germany, at war prices. Now we are short and prices have risen in consequence some 20 per cent on an average."

England has tried to arrange with Sweden to allow Sweden to restock on an anti-hellum basis. But the pro-German element refuse to agree to this.

So relations between the two countries continued to be somewhat strained. England refused to allow certain things to pass the blockade and enter Sweden. Sweden retaliated by laying an embargo on certain articles—wood-pulp, for example.

Now the wood-pulp dealers, who formerly exported some 200,000 to 300,000 tons per year, have no market for their pulp and are not happy. "I am sure," Director Hildt said, "that at present our government would like to go back on its action. An agreement with England would benefit us much."

THE NEW SERIES 18 CARS

With Seven New and Exclusive Features

THE DAY OF HIGH PRICES FOR FINE CARS HAS PASSED

STUDEBAKER NEW SERIES 18 CARS, with seven new, special and exclusive improvements are FINE CARS, warranted by us to completely satisfy the most particular and fastidious persons. We believe these cars represent the greatest automobile values ever offered to the buying public, and that persons accustomed to paying $2000 or $3000 for cars will, upon examination, concede that these Studebakers equal ANY such cars in quality of material, design, workmanship and finish, and also concede the truth of our statement that THE DAY OF HIGH PRICES FOR FINE CARS HAS PASSED.

Studebaker has centered its great resources and experience on ONE BASIC DESIGN, with all parts interchangeable for both the FOUR and SIX, except the motor. One equipment of machinery, tools, character of manufacturing operations and quality of material suffices for both models.

No revolutionary changes have been made in the basic Studebaker design for four years. The same group of EMINENT ENGINEERS AND DESIGNERS are responsible for the evolution of the new Series 18 models, yet the many improvements and refinements adopted as the result of our experience have made these new models decidedly the best cars we have ever produced. They are sold with our guarantee of prompt and efficient service and the replacement without charge for defective parts, if any are developed, within one year from date of sale. We guarantee our cars to give absolute satisfaction, provided they receive the care a highly developed piece of machinery should receive.

The Series 18 cars are leaders in the industry, history makers, which put Studebaker in the lead with new and greater values at popular prices. Studebaker has led the way in nearly every forward step in automobile construction in which the owner profited. STUDEBAKER WAS THE FIRST

- to produce a six-cylinder car selling for less than $2000;
- to produce a 50 horse power car selling for less than $2000;
- to produce a seven-passenger car selling for less than $1000;
- to establish a uniform, international service system for owners;
- to produce the now popular crown fenders;
- and, finally, Studebaker was the first manufacturer of FINE CARS to offer its product at medium prices, thus leading the way to greater values and compelling other manufacturers to increase values and reduce prices.

Studebaker has $13,000,000 invested in the most efficient and modern plants in which it manufactures all of its engines, axles, transmissions, differentials, bodies and tops. Middlemen's profits (parts makers) included in the price of assembled cars and small manufacturers' cars are almost entirely eliminated in Studebaker selling prices. It is necessary to pay from 50% to 100% more than Studebaker prices for cars of corresponding value.

NEW STORM CURTAINS. Of the recent Blackmore design and patent, opening with the doors and thereby preventing crouching and crushed hats. Studebaker, we believe, is the first maker to offer this improvement as standard equipment.

IMPROVED BODY AND UPHOLSTERY. The body is elegantly finished and equipped—inside and out. The handsome foot rail, wide scuff plates, wide doors, handsome door trim, carpeting, etc., all demonstrate quality and refinement. The upholstery is semi-glazed, straight-grained, genuine leather, made to special Studebaker forms, with the best curled hair and long coiled springs. Tonneau carpet all wool, bound with leather instead of cheap, raveling thread-stitch. The top is made of the finest grade silk mohair, bound with leather edging, a feature found on few cars at any price. The body materials, upholstery and workmanship of Studebaker cars are unsurpassed, and the interior finish and detail of the bodies are LUXURIOUS and COMFORTABLE.

YALE SWITCH LOCK. Of pin tumbler type, Studebaker design, insuring convenient and safe protection against theft or unauthorized use of the car.

NEW WINTER TOP made exclusively for Studebaker cars. Noiseless. Quickly and easily put on or taken off, and fitting perfectly.

Mechanical Improvements

Improvements have been made in the Series 18 Motor, insuring greater smoothness, flexibility, quietness and economy. All noticeable vibration has been eliminated by superior piston design and the stiffening of the motor frame.

The Studebaker-Schebler carburetion system has been developed so that both the FOUR and SIX are the most ECONOMICAL motors on the market in ratio to power.

Studebaker lubrication has been further improved. The system is positive and eliminates all lubrication troubles. Waste through the exhaust is overcome and practically no surplus oil reaches the combustion chamber to burn and form carbon.

The chassis frame is the same strong light construction which has characterized all Studebaker cars. The perfection of our chassis design is convincingly proven by satisfaction given in over 285,000 Studebakers produced and sold.

The full-floating rear axle construction remains the same in principle as heretofore, but has been further improved and strengthened. This type of axle is used by practically all leading manufacturers, thereby proving its mechanical superiority.

The best quality of steel and alloy is used throughout. Every gear is of CHROME NICKEL STEEL, specially cut by Studebaker.

In the differential, which has four bevel gears, Timken bearings are used throughout. Only eleven of the three hundred different cars on the market use as many Timken bearings as Studebaker, and the average price of these cars is $2,000.

The Wagner Lighting and Starting System is individual to Studebaker cars and has been further improved by increasing the cranking power 12%.

The Willard Storage Battery is absolute assurance against ignition, lighting and starting failure. Studebaker uses a 100 AMPERE hour battery.

STRUM TAKES HOLD OF GREEN MEN AND GRABS BIG TITLE

Former High and Normal Star
Turns Out Team That Takes Normal Championship of Three States

Coch Arthur Strum, football, basket ball and track star of the La Crosse high and normal schools in years past, and prominent member of the graduating class of the physical education course at the normal last June, is in La Crosse on a short vacation with a broad smile on his face. Art was sent at the beginning of the school year to take charge of the physical training work and athletic coaching in the northern industrial normal school at Aberdeen, S. D. Now Art as captain of the normal football team last season was quite some player so he had his mind set on turning out a team that would win some fame for the school and, incidentally, for the coach.

The huskies were gathered together this fall but, unfortunately for Strum, most of them had never seen a pigskin before. Such was his task, but with the "pep" that he had always manifested in the local institutions he got his men to work and victories began to pour in as the season advanced.

Today the football team of the normal school of Aberdeen, S. D., bears the proud title of champions of the normal school teams of the states of North Dakota, South Dakota and Nebraska and perhaps if the other states were met, Art's team would have still other titles attached to its name. Strum is to return to the west soon to gather his proteges, for the basket ball season, in which sport he hopes to duplicate his early success.

SPEAKER LEADS A. L. BATSMITHS COBB IS SECOND

CHICAGO, Dec. 2.—Official batting averages of the American league made public here Saturday, showed that Tris Speaker of Cleveland led the batsmiths of the Big League circuit in the 1916 season by just fifteen points. The former Bostonian hammered the ball for a count of .336 to .371 for Cobb. It was the first time Cobb had missed the top of the ladder in eleven years.

Joe Jackson really stood third on the list, but Tub Spence of Detroit was a notch ahead. The latter took part in 19 games and had an average of .370 while Jackson's average was .347 for 155 games.

Rumler of St. Paul, Strunk of Philadelphia, Eddie Collins of Chicago, Gardner of Boston, Veach of Detroit, Sisler of St. Louis and D'Elch of Chicago were the others in the charmed circle.

Cobb was the best run getter, scoring 113. Speaker had 211 hits, nine more than his nearest rival, Pipp, New York, with twelve, led the home run smashers.

TWO OF SPUH'S TOSSING STARS TO LEAVE SCHOOL

Meinert Going to Oshkosh for Physical Education Job and Grounds Is Going to New York Town

The soaring hopes of normal school basket ball enthusiasts, which have been dwelling consistently upon the bright prospects of another state conference championship this year, were suddenly cast to earth on Saturday with an announcement by Coach Spuh that spelled distress for the La Crosse team. It is practically a certainty that Captain Meinert, who has starred on the aggregation for the past two years, will take up a physical education job in Oshkosh, according to the statement by "Doc" Spuh. The contracts have not been signed but it seems highly probable that the captain of the "five will go, as he is one of the few physical eds who are doing their third year work at the school.

Added to the distressing statement by the normal mentor was an appendix of almost equal importance. On February 1, "Dad" Grounds, a member of the basket ball and football teams of the last three years, will go to New York to take charge of the physical training department of the public schools in a small town in that state. It is probable that Meinert will also take up his duties on February 1.

Must Mold New Team
With the only two stars from the team which won the championship in 1914 and composed the team which was the runner-up with River Falls last year, going away to teach, Dr. Spuh will be entirely without any of the material of other years and will be required to mold an entirely new team, with which to make his debut in the southern section of the state normal school conference.

Although all the old men will be gone, however, as circumstances now seem to indicate, there is a great deal of new material available at the school, by far more new material than has ever been on hand in any other school year.

Wishes to Return?
Rumor has it that John "Lump" Weiss, captain of the five last season, was to return to the normal school soon but a statement by himself to The TRIBUNE indicates that he has not as yet made up his mind although indications at present are that he will not enroll at the school from which he graduated in June.

Among the new basket ball men at the school are Fagin and Canon, former members of Assistant Coach Heinemann's team in Indiana. Benjamin, Tomah star, Kulczynski and Roellig of the La Crosse high, and Wiener of Independence among others of the stronger calibre.

Denies Rumor Chance
IS CALLED TO CHICAGO
CHICAGO, Dec. 2.—President Weeghman of the Cubs on Saturday denied the rumor which has bobbed up again on the Pacific coast that Frank Chance is to be called here to manage the Cubs. He said that no approach had been made to the peerless leader and that the story was without foundation.

RUCKER RELEASED

NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—Nap Rucker, who pitched for the Dodgers for ten years and fulfilled his ambition of playing on a winning pennant team, was unconditionally released Friday. He signed a contract as scout for the Brooklyn team.

WHITE SOAKS YOKUM

NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—Soakem Yokum made another appearance before the fight fans Friday night and entertained them by being on the receiving end of an assortment of Charlie White's left hooks and right crosses. The Denver lightweight managed to stick it out.

TWO WESTERN MEN ON ALL-AMERICAN OF U. P. WRITER

Boston of Minnesota at End and Harley of Ohio State in Backfield of Hamilton's Mythical
First Team

By H. C. HAMILTON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
All American Selections

NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—Two western men, Bastion of Minnesota, and Harley of Ohio State, are entitled to places on the mythical all-American football team this year. The west has also horned into the second eleven with three men.

Northwestern, Notre Dame and Minnesota hit the second team and there is considerable doubt if Driscoll of Northwestern, or Wyman of Minnesota do not deserve places on the first team. Coffall of Notre Dame, too, is far above the average as a backfield man and his defensive ability makes him a favorite for an end position.

Intersectional games being almost impossible, the task of selecting the all-American is not a light one this year. Colgate and Tufts are the only two big teams of the east which journeyed far toward the Mississippi this fall and they came back victorious.

But, after having seen most of the important conflicts in the east as a representative of the United Press and having closely watched performances of western teams, the writer believes the selections as outlined are fair to both east and west.

Bastion Best Ever
Bastion of Minnesota is undoubtedly the best end of the west and that alone is sufficient to win him a place on the mythical team. For the east hasn't a real good end of all-American class. Bastion is a wonderful defensive player. His end of the line is one of the impregnable kind. The fact that he was an almost unanimous selection a year ago makes him a doubly certain choice this year.

Devitalis of Brown is a real all-American choice for either of the tackles. Not only is this big husky almost impassable in the line, but he can be switched into the backfield as a kicker and has done all the kicking touchdowns for Brown. Out of twenty-one attempts at goals after touchdowns this year, Devitalis did not miss a one.

Captain Black of Yale draws the line assignment on the left side of the line. It was his fighting spirit, his courage and the strength in his huge shoulders that simply dragged Yale to a glorious season's ending.

Peck the Captain
Captain Peck of Pittsburgh is the class of the centers, although there are several eastern men who look to be almost as good. McEwan of the Army is one of these, but a careful elimination gives the call to Peck. The fact that he captained the unbeaten Pittsburgh team gives him the right to captain the all-American eleven.

Fox of Yale is stationed at right guard. Although he wasn't a regular all season, it was easy to see when he did draw his place in the blue line that he was far ahead of other guards, with the exception of his own captain.

West of Colgate draws the right tackle assignment. His work against Brown was particularly brilliant.

It has come to be customary to shunt backfield men into end positions when there is a surplus of good backfield material and this is what has been done with Berry of Pennsylvania, a man who could not be left off the big eleven. Berry came back this year with lots of energy. His play against Cornell, Penn State and Dartmouth was phenomenal.

There has been a lot of argument regarding the qualities of Shiverick of Cornell and Anderson of Colgate. Neither compare with some of the great quarterbacks of former years, but for his aggressiveness and his kicking ability, Shiverick is given the job of directing the mythical plays of this vapor team.

The backfield is composed of Hastings, of Pittsburgh, Harley of Ohio State and Oliphant of the Army. If there is a better trio in the country, east, west, north or south, it would be worth any price of admission just to see them standing around. Oliphant probably is the best of the lot and Hastings should be rated next to him.

Harley is the first Ohio State man who ever gained fame as a member of an all-American eleven. All three of these men are fast, slippery men in broken fields and everyone is a heavy, smashing line plunger.

LATE AUSTRIAN EMPEROR BURIED

BERLIN, via Sayville Wireless.
Dec. 2.—The funeral of Franz Josef, late emperor, took place in Vienna Thursday at 1 o'clock.
Dispatches Friday from the Austrian capital, said first sacraments were administered by Dr. Saydl, then the dead emperor was escorted by detachments of infantry and cavalry guards through enormous crowds in the Ringstrasse and Rotenturmstrasse to St. Stephen cathedral. All church bells tolled as the procession moved through the city.
In St. Stephan cathedral the emperor and empress, members of the allied and befriended reigning dynasties, the diplomatic corps, deputations from the reichsrat and the Hungarian reichstag were assembled. The sacrament was administered by Cardinal Piffli. After this, and during singing of the "Libera," the body was carried into the sepulcher of Capuchines where it will later be interred between the sarcophagi of Queen Elizabeth and the Crown Prince Rudolph.

We once met a man who thought the world and his wife appreciated him.

The public will be welcome at the services and social functions and all who do not worship elsewhere are invited to make this their church home.

Epworth League
BY FRANCES DIXON

The topic for December 3, is: "What Missions Do for Childhood." Scripture reference, Isa. 57-5, Ezek. 16:21, 2 Kings 16: 3 Mark, 10:13-16.

Dr. Isaac Headland said: "Do you ever think of the fact that there are no heathen babies?" If Christian teaching could come into all heathen homes childhood in pagan lands would be as bright and beautiful as it is here.

Chicago Grain Review

CHICAGO, Dec. 2.—Wheat was down slightly Saturday under the de- pressing influence of peace talk and shortage in vessels for export busi- ness. It opened lower and had a sharp drop during the morning, but later advances returned prices almost as much as they had fallen. Decem- ber closed unchanged at $1.66; May down 3-4c at $1.73 1-4; July down 1-2c at $1.41 1-4.

Corn opened weak, but showed fair gains on general buying. December closed up 1-4c at 86 3-4c; May up 5-8c at 90c; July up 1-8c at 89 5-8c.

Oats were irregular. December closed up 1-4c at 52c; May down 1-2c at 55 7-8c; July up 1c at 53c.

Provisions were steady.

Wisconsin Churners to Gather in Big Convention at Nearby City December 5, 6 and 7

SPARTA, Wis.—(Special).—Plans for the entertainment of delegates to the Buttermakers' convention, which will be held in Sparta, Dec. 5, 6, and 7, are well under way. Harley Jefferson, secretary of the Advancement Association, and Sim E. Oaks, local outturner, are in general charge of all the arrangements. This convention is larger than any Sparta has undertaken before.

The meetings will be held in the Armory and in general, the following program will be carried out:

The Program
Tuesday evening, Dec. 5, beginning at 8 o'clock. Call to order by President E. J. Morrison of Chetek; address of welcome, Dr. P. P. Stiles, mayor of Sparta; response, Lauritz Olson, West De Pere; annual message, President Morrison; address, Prof. R. A. Moore, of the University of Wisconsin. The Sparta High School Glee club and orchestra will furnish music, and there will be reading by Miss Lorna Axtel, and Miss Nellie B. Jones.

Wednesday morning, Dec. 6, members will be given an opportunity to inspect the butter exhibits from 8:30 to 9:45 in the exhibit hall. At 10 o'clock in the Armory, L. Dickey of Glenwood City, will speak on "The Kerosene Engine as a Source of Power in the Creamery." "How We Are Bettering Our Creamery Conditions," E. M. Jackson, West Salem. These will be followed by the report of the secretary and treasurer and the election of officers.

Coon Valley Man Talks
Wednesday afternoon, beginning at 2 o'clock. "The Advantages of the Water Heater in the Creamery," H. B. Holberg, Coon Valley. "The Value of Skim Milk to Creamery Patrons," Prof. E. H. Farrington, Madison. "Business Correspondence," Prof. M. Mortensen, Ames, Iowa. "The Buttermaker's Business," Prof. R. M. Washburn, St. Paul.

Thursday morning, Dec. 7, there will be further inspection of butter exhibits, after which the program will be taken up again at ten o'clock. "The Importance and Proper Method of Ventilating a Creamery," Prof. E. G. Kraege, Fort Atkinson. "The Buttermaker's Duty in the Proper Marketing of the Factory's Butter," Prof. G. H. Benckendorf, Madison.

Thursday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, the program will be resumed. "What the Licensing Law has Accomplished for the Buttermakers of Wisconsin," G. J. Weigle, Wisconsin dairy and food commissioner. "The Cause and Prevention of Mould in the Creamery," Prof. E. G. Hastings, Madison. Discussion—"Is it Advisable for a Creamery to Pasturize Cream for Buttermaking?" "Yes," H. B. Griffin, Mount Horeb. "No," V. S. Koppel, Holmen. Announcement of scores and awarding of prizes Wednesday and Thursday evenings there will be no program. A vaudeville troupe has been engaged for these nights at the Armory for the pleasure of the guests. The Advancement association has brought the show here to provide entertainment for the delegates and those attending the Buttermakers' convention.

There will be no admission charged at any of the meetings of the convention, and the public and farmers in particular are invited and urged to join the association. The fee for membership is one dollar, and with this a year's subscription to a dairy magazine is given.

Farm Contest Dec. 12
The Farmers' Corn and Grain contest will be held in Sparta, Tuesday, Dec. 12, at the city hall, under the management of the Wisconsin College of Agriculture, and the Advancement association of Sparta. Every farmer in Monroe county is urged to take part. The purpose is to encourage the selection and use of the best pure bred seed.

All exhibits should be at the city hall before 5 o'clock Monday afternoon, Dec. 11. A sweepstake prize of $10.00 has been offered by the Advancement association. All premiums will be paid as soon as possible after the close of the meeting. At 9 o'clock Tuesday morning, there will be the judging of exhibits by A. H. Wright. Talk—"Value of Pure Bred Sire in the Herd," J. A. James. Tuesday afternoon at one o'clock, "Alfalfa and Clover," A. H. Wright. "Greatest Returns from the Dairy Herd," J. A. James.

Y. M. C. A. Gathering
Kenneth and David Brown, Harry Potter, Tyler Barney and Harry Kemp, accompanied by Mr. Harry Newton, went to Beloit today to attend a Y. M. C. A. meeting. They will remain until Monday.

PURE BLOOD MAKES HEALTHY PEOPLE

Hood's Sarsaparilla surely and effectively removes scrofula, boils and other blood diseases because it drives out of the blood all the humors that cause these diseases. They cannot be successfully treated in any other way. External applications for their removal have proven almost useless, because they cannot drive out the impurities that are in the blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla makes pure rich blood, perfects the digestion, and builds up the whole system. The skin becomes smooth, clean and healthy. This great blood remedy has stood the test of forty years. Insist on having Hood's, for nothing else acts like it. There is no real substitute. Get it today. Sold by all druggists.

Get Your Christmas Victrola Now

Not to desire a Victrola is not to love music.

The Victrola is now so highly perfected that it can not fairly be called a re-producing instrument in the sense that it gives you an imitation of the original.

Come in and hear one of the latest Victrolas play the record "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia," sung by Alma Gluck, and chorus. If this is not real music, differing in nowise from the original performance as far as tone is concerned, then the ears of the keenest connoisseur are at fault.

Or, let us play Fritz Kreisler's "Humoresque" record for you. You can fairly feel his fingers change from one violin position to another.

A Word to the Wise

The demand for Victrolas is so great that it is very possible that a shortage will occur this Christmas.

Make your selection now, while our stock is complete in every respect—Prices $15 to $300. Visitors are always welcome in our Victrola Parlors.

LOST ART RECOVERED

H. L. Skavlem of Janesville will chip an Indian arrow head or a stone axe for you while you wait. Already versed in the lore of botany, geology and ornithology, Mr. Skavlem turned his attention a few years since to the subject of Wisconsin Indian archaeology. Doubtless his interest in the new study was quickened by the fact that on his farm on Lake Koshkonong is an Indian village site which for fifty years has constituted a fruitful hunting ground for the characteristic remains of the departed race. At any rate he has developed some very interesting theories, the proof of which he is prepared on occasion to demonstrate to the satisfaction of the most skeptical. Mr. Skavlem holds that the white man of today, using only stone age implements, can make the stone axes, arrow heads, and other characteristic utensils of the stone age period as well as the primitive man himself could do. Armed only with a piece of bone he fashions an arrowhead in two or three minutes time, explaining the while the obstacles which the primitive artisan had to overcome. In thirty minutes he fashions a stone axe, again employing only the tools of the stone age worker.

If it Catches You There 'ANURIC'

Will Quickly Stop It!

Simply to realize the importance of the oncoming kidney trouble, by its first symptoms, backache or throbs through the kidney region, is money in one's pocket as well as years of sickness forestalled. No organ of the body is more easily deranged than the kidneys. Day in and day out their action is constant, in separating poisonous matter from the blood. Most cases of kidney trouble may easily be overcome by merely taking a little "Anuric" with the meals. Citizens daily voice their praises of the merits of "Anuric," the recent discovery of Doctor Pierce, of "Favorite Prescription" and "Golden Medical Discovery" fame. Here is a letter from Mr. WALTER CARLSON, who says:

"I suffered for four years with pain in my back. I tried everything there was out but they all failed to help me. I even went to a doctor and he could not cure my backache—said it was from the kidneys. A friend of mine not cure my backache—said it was from the kidneys. A friend of mine advised me to try a box of Dr. Pierce's Anuric Tablets, and so I did; I used two boxes and my pains were gone. I am not telling any lie, the pain in my back was something terrible. As soon as I would bend over to get something from the floor I thought my whole back would burst."

"I would advise sufferers to try two or three boxes of 'Anuric' Tablets."

NOTE:—Experiments at Dr. Pierce's Hospital for several years proved that "Anuric" is 37 times more potent than lithia in removing uric acid from the system, as hot water melts sugar.

Just ask for "Anuric" at druggists, or send Dr. Pierce 10c. for trial package.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Circulars free. All Druggists. F. J. CURENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

Judge Sanborn Here Monday

United States Judge A. L. Sanborn, Madison, is expected in La Crosse Monday night. It is believed that he will receive the report of the federal grand jury on Tuesday morning. The body will probably be discharged from further duty. With the return of U. S. Marshal Lamont from Madison and other United States court attaches from Thanksgiving holidays, the court suite in the federal building resumed a busy air. It is not expected court will be resumed from thirty to sixty days. With its opening Judge K. M. Landis, of Chicago, will return to La Crosse.

VISIONS

They come, some times, without our knowing what brings them. There is always a cause, but we are not always conscious of it. I have had some Sabbath mornings that rose upon me with healing in their wings, after a troubled week. I can scarcely tell why I was troubled, but the mind's fruit was not sweet. Yet, when the Sabbath morning came, I no sooner looked down upon the bay and across at my morning signal, the star on Trinity church, symbolic of the star that hung over the spot where the child Jesus lay—than I felt that it was an elect morning. And when I went into the street, all the trees—if it was summer—were murmuring to me; all the birds were singing to me; the clouds were bearing messages to me; everything was kindred to me. All my soul rejoiced; I do not know why. * * But undoubtedly there was some cause operating which was in consonance with the laws of the mind; and when the morning came, with its propitious conjunction of circumstances, these results took place.—Henry Ward Beecher.
